ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

The Borisevich Duo, comprised of pianist Margarita Loukachkina and violinist Nikita Borisevich, is an internationally acclaimed violin-piano ensemble celebrated for its expressive artistry, nuanced interpretations, and dynamic performances. The Duo has earned widespread recognition throughout North America and Europe, captivating audiences with their technical brilliance and deep musical insight.

Both Nikita and Margarita are laureates of numerous prestigious international music competitions, and their performing careers have taken them to many of the world's most revered concert venues, including The Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., Mozarteum University in Salzburg, the Grand Hall of the Moscow Conservatory, Shriver Hall in Baltimore, and the Manuel de Falla Auditorium in Granada, Spain.

The Borisevich Duo was honored as the inaugural recipient of the Young Artist Development Series Award at the El Paso Pro Musica Festival, in collaboration with the Peabody Conservatory. This recognition led to further invitations for residencies at the El Paso Pro Musica Festival, the Northwest Bach Festival, and the Sitka Summer Music Festival under the artistic direction of Grammy Award-winning cellist Zuill Bailey.

Recent highlights include debut performances with the Venetian Arts Society in Florida, the Chamber Music Society of Maryland, and international concerts in Metz, France, and Luxembourg. The Duo was also named a winner of the Beverly Hills National Auditions and has appeared to great acclaim at the Dame Myra Hess Concert Series in Chicago, the Alden Theatre in McLean, the Bethel Woods Center for the Arts in New York, the Gualala Chamber Music Society in California, and numerous concert series throughout Washington, D.C., and Maryland.

Outside of their performing career, both musicians are deeply committed to music education. Violinist Nikita Borisevich has served on the chamber music faculty of the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University. Pianist Margarita Loukachkina holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Piano Performance from the Peabody Institute.

Marc Borisevich is an exceptionally gifted 9-year-old pianist, carrying forward the distinguished musical legacy of his family, which spans several generations of professional musicians. He began piano studies at the age of four under the guidance of his mother, pianist Margarita

Loukachkina.

Despite his young age, Marc has already appeared in numerous performances across Maryland, Virginia, Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania, California, Florida, and Connecticut as well performances in France and Italy. Most recently, he made his debut at the College of Southern Maryland, where he opened the concert season of the Benny C. Morgan Concert Series.

Highlights of his current season include appearances at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen in Baltimore and the Alden Theatre in Virginia.
